FRANKLIN PRESENTS ITS CPA REVIEW SERIES

Columbus, Ohio — Franklin University, the leading educator of working adults in central Ohio, is pleased to announce a new addition to its relevant offerings, its CPA Review Series – a pioneering approach to preparing for the CPA exam.

Who better than experienced professionals, such as Franklin's accounting adjuncts, to help teach CPA candidates what they need to prepare for the CPA exam? Beginning this August, CPA candidates sitting for the CPA exam can apply their expertise in a whole new way when Franklin University rolls out its innovative CPA Review Series.

Open to all CPA candidates, from Franklin University and other universities and colleges, Franklin's CPA Review Series features the same look and feel found in all of Franklin's courses. Where Franklin's CPA Review breaks learning barriers is in its presentation. Each CPA Review topic is addressed according to degree of difficulty: easy, medium or difficult. Additionally, student-centered classroom reviews are designed for optimum effectiveness.

The four-course series includes Financial Accounting and Reporting, Auditing and Attestation, Regulation, and Business Environment and Concepts. Beginning this May, all four courses will be available every August, November, February and May.

For more information on this innovative new CPA Review Series, contact Tom Seiler, JD, CPA, Program Chair, Accounting, Franklin University, 614.947.6103 or via email at seilert@franklin.edu.
